*To the memory
of*

Miss Nina Walldorff

*because she understood our youthful ambitions and dreams, we, the class of 1930 dedicate
this, The Quest number of
The Oaks*

FOREWORD

"In days of old, when knights were bold," and the quest of youth was the attainment of an ideal worthy of his dreams, every child began life with the thought that sometime, like his father before him, he would set out in search of his Holy Grail. In considering all that gorgeous tapestry of conquest in color, we find there a picture of the youth of our day, indeed the youth of all time, dreaming, reaching out for something in the far away places of his future. From this we have planned our Quest year book, seeing in the development of the young man of King Arthur's court in the three stages of page, squire, and knight, the growth of every student as he enters high school and gradually comes to the place where he is ready for his future, his quest.

SALUTATORY

For several years it has been the custom for the Salutatorian to express the feeling of gratitude and affection the whole class experiences upon leaving Muskegon Heights High School. We are no less grateful or sorrowful at leaving this school. Yet we do not wish to use the same hackneyed, time-worn phrases. We wish to dwell on the accomplishments our school has attained.

Our athletic teams are those of class A standards. There is not another team we are afraid of meeting. Games with our athletic representatives are very much sought after. Just a few months ago our school entered a Southwestern Michigan Athletic Conference, which ranks us with outstanding high schools of the state. Several of our prominent team men are known all over Michigan.

Never before in the history of our school has the social feeling been so well established. This has resulted from our successful school dances. Social grace and good breeding are as necessary to a high school graduate as is his diploma. Indeed, our school took a splendid step when it entered social teaching into the curriculum of the high school.

Declamation, oratory, and debate next claim our attention. No one can dispute us when we say we have truly made progress in these lines. We have never failed to reach at least the third round in the declamatory contests. A man who was an outstanding orator while he was a student here has recently been honored by the publication of his master's thesis in the Quarterly Journal of Speech. Is that not an honor for those involved in his early training?

Dramatics is another line of activity where we have excelled. Our class plays have an established reputation of no small worth. This is true from the financial standpoint as well as from the artistic success of the production.

All in all, parents, teachers, and friends, our dearly loved high school has a significant value for us. We are proud of her honors and are glad we could have had some part in all that she has accomplished.

Wilda Duke

PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS

A recent speaker in one of our assemblies brought out that in all that group of about eight hundred, only two people would amount to anything. That was a terrible blow to us seniors, for every one of us, being a senior, had expected to be president at least. We expected all the world to be breathlessly waiting for our graduation, so that they could put us in our proper niche, and reap the benefit of our superior knowledge.

How this world ever progressed so far without us, we couldn't figure out. We had expected that all the colleges in Michigan would have us on their prospective freshmen lists. Imagine our consternation upon being told that only two in the whole high school would rise above the common herd. We discover that we are not so all-important after all. The world would probably get along just as well without us. I guess our footprints in the sands of time are not going to be so big after all.

We have come to the conclusion that it is wrong to grow up with your wagon hitched to a star, because when the fall comes, you become disillusioned, you are crushed, hurt with the shock. Of course, everyone should dream of the future; as long as there is youth, fresh, hopeful, we will continue to dream. It is only natural and right that we should have ambitions. However, one who starts out with the idea that the world is his to conquer, and that it is an easy task, is sadly mistaken.

We know that we have our dreams like all youth, but we hope that we have no false impression that the world is our oyster, which we will open with our swords. We hope that we can face this new experience, unafraid, but with the knowledge of the task before us. After all, graduation from high school does not necessitate our stepping, as it were, from a sheltered place out into the storm. We trust that we have been preparing ourselves all the while to better meet this storm.

Whatever our success in this new life, we shall never cease to think of the help and benefit in our preparation, which we have received here at Muskegon Heights High School.

YOUTH'S QUEST

W. L. G. 1911

There came flash upon flash of radiance and the Holy Grail appeared in a vision,
And mine eyes were blinded by the glory, and my senses enlightened by the truth it spake unto me:
"Youth forget not! Youth fear not!
I am the Holy Grail, the object of knighthood quests.
I am success and happiness for which all men struggle.
Great are the blessings I give unto them who attain me.
Many are the knights who are reaching out for me,
But few are the knights who will find me within their grasp
Only those who are worthy may drink a sweetened draught,
Make gentle speech, do noble deeds, purify your heart:
Set your eyes upon a distant goal and strive for it.
If you fail in your quest it will not be lost effort,
Do you falter in the strife — take courage from the King whom you serveth.

You, too, may be a Galahad. Then follow in his footsteps,
Long is the life which is reaching out before you,
Let your aims be high and success will reward you.
Are you among those who shall be counted as victors?
Vast is the world you must conquer, and time is fleeting.
Look forward! Set your heart upon the goal you would reach.
Life life!
Breathe love!
Work!
Humble your heart!
Success and happiness may be yours.
Thus spake the vision, and then did it fade from my sight.
May its radiance lighten our pathway,
To fulfillment of our desires.

CLASS HISTORY

In the month of September, 1926, there assembled some two hundred fifty Pages in the court room of the Muskegon Heights High School to seek knowledge as to their advancement in knighthood. The principal of the court, King Arthur, presided. They chose their leading Pages to direct them through the first year, president, Royal Thompson; vice-president, Frances Cooper; secretary and treasurer, Dottie Abbott; sergeant-at-arms, Bernard Caughey; reporter, Anne Bell Booth; advisors, Miss Inman and Mr. Peterman. A permanent flower, the sweet pea, and colors, peach and blue, were chosen.

A party was held in the dining hall of the Muskegon Heights High School.

The Pages started their career by being represented in the school debate team.

A Page picnic was held at Lake Michigan Park during the last week of our first year.

Having passed their first year successfully they were promoted to Squires.

The first meeting of the Squires was called in 1927. President, Veronica Perreault; vice president, Sally Olson; secretary and treasurer, Frances Cooper; sergeant-at-arms, Marion Cook; advisors, Mr. Peterman and Mr. Johnson, were chosen as our leader.

A party was given on the twenty-first of October at Mona Beach Inn. The Knights tried to crash the party but were unsuccessful.

A dance was given at Pontalina Club House. Everybody enjoyed prizes won by others, especially the peanut brittle won by Julia Cunningham. Victor Pyle narrowly escaped an annual dip in Lake Michigan. Cider and doughnuts were enjoyed by all.

Verna Sweet was elected May Queen. In the May Festival the Squires were original, as usual.

The Squires' picnic was held at Lake Michigan Park June 8, 1928.

The Squires were again promoted and were finally dubbed Knights.

A meeting of the Dub-Knights was held and the following were elected: president, Bruce Lintner; vice president, Herbert Pedler; secretary, Sally Olson; treasurer, Verna Sweet; sergeant-at-arms, John Austin; reporter, Dottie Abbott; advisors, Miss Fillingham and Mr. Koehn.

A dance was held at the I. O. O. F. Hall which was given the name of "The Junior-Shin Dig".

The Knights and Dub-Knights held a Roller Skating Party at the Ambassador Roller Rink on November 26, 1928.

When Class Day was held the Dub-Knights came out dressed-up like their colleagues, the Knights.

The Dub-Knights under the direction of Miss Hostetler presented the play, "Oh Kay!".

Verna Sweet represented us again as Autumn Queen.

The Dub-Knights entertained the Knights at a boat ride where all were dressed in glittering armor. This was followed by a ball given at Fruitport Pavilion, the most successful that any Dub-Knight group had ever staged.

The Dub-Knights were successful in athletics, too, the girls and boys both winning the school basketball tournament. We were also represented on the list of lettermen and among track boys.

The Dub-Knights were invited to share the picnic of the Knights at Lake Michigan Park.

The Dub Knights, having received the necessary training, were finally considered genuine Knights. The chief Knight was James Cobb, assistant Knight, Frances Cooper; their helpers, Jewell Meier and Dottie Abbott; advisors, Miss Golden and Mr. Rudd.

The Dub-Knights and Knights entertained with the first all-school dance.

A "hobo" dress parade was held in the hall of King Arthur's court.

The Knights had a dinner dance in the dining hall of the Muskegon Heights castle where childish thoughts vanished from their minds and dignity was expressed in every way.

This was an athletic year for the Knights. We were represented by Bruce Lintner, James Cobb, Robert Campbell, Herbert Pedler, Edward Brothers, Stanley Birleson, Edward Pascoe, Clifford Abrahamson, William Antisdale, Claire Humphreys, and William Paulin. In debates we took no back seat, James Cobb, Jack Whitford and Janice Beckwith representing us. Our boys and girls again won the championship of the basketball tournament.

The Knights presented J. M. Barrie's "Quality Street" as their Senior play.

The Dub-Knights entertained the Knights and loads of fun was had by all.

PROPHECY

I was standing on the sidewalk in Muskegon Heights in front of a department store on which was a large sign which read "Hirsch & Jackson" Dry Goods & Notions. I had come into the Heights with the other large crowds to see the famous millionaire, James Cobb, make his first flight in his newly purchased plane, "Spirit of 1955." Suddenly I saw people running in all directions to escape what seemed to be a coming tornado. There was a roaring and rattling in the distance, and just as I was ready to find shelter in a store, I saw the cause of the commotion. It was a Ford car covered with mud, and having much the appearance of those used back in 1930. In the front seat sat Edward Brothers with his wife, Julia Cunningham. In the back seat was Edward Pascoe and wife, Donna Rice.

Just then someone touched me on the arm and turning I saw Hutson. She told me that she was head of the English Department at the Muskegon Heights High School, as Miss Sprague had retired. She also told me about some of the other teachers at the high school. Jack Whittord is teaching French, and Rose Lanore Atkins is the Latin teacher.

Next, I entered the Hirsch and Jackson Department Store and the first one I saw was Bernice Derda. She is the head clerk in the Notion's Department. The elevator stopped beside her counter, and looking in, I saw Carroll Horne sitting on a high stool with white gloves on, evidently the elevator boy. On the second floor was a beauty parlor with John Koslosky as barber, and Gerakline Kithandresser.

Suddenly I heard the clanging of the fire engine and running to the door I saw that the twenty story Beckwith Hotel was on fire. Running with the crowd to the fire, I saw Arnold Onness, the janitor, just as he rescued the head waitress, Frances Chase, from the twentieth story. Laura Cruse and Mary Shunta also had been employed in this hotel, and seemed very excited thinking that the janitor might be injured.

It was thought for a time that there was danger of the buildings catching to the hotel burning. One of them was the office of the chain stores, Bramard Food Shops, of Western Michigan, and the other The All-Nite Roomers' Eat Shop, of which Martha Svetlik and Lucille Sternburgh are the joint owners. Before leaving the fire, I saw an ambulance carrying away the injured. On the side of the ambulance in large gold letters was printed, "Humphreys and Abrahamson, Educated Undertakers," while the driver was Rod Campbell, and the nurse was Blanche Little.

After the fire had been put out, I recognized LeRoy McDonald as the fire chief, and Tyrus Cobb was operating the siren.

After all this excitement, I went to the drug store for one of Marion McQuade's famous sodas. On my way, I passed the Heights Theatre on which was the sign, "Under new ownership, Anna Buskarits and Helga Brulladt, New Joint Managers, Enlargements about to be made!" Looking at the pictures, I saw that George White's Scandals were playing, featuring Helen Balke as the leading lady. There was also a vaudeville feature dance given by the Evergreen Sisters, Bernice and Evelyn Green.

As I sat there, I thought of the divorce case between Wilda Dake and Bruce Lintner. The charge was cruelty. Mrs. Lintner had hired as her lawyer Ralph Lillie, while Mr. Lintner's lawyer was George Hurtubise. It seems that Mrs. Lintner is likely to win the case.

As I was sipping my soda, I heard a familiar voice coming from a nearby radio. It was the famous broadcasters, Fred Reineke and John Gebro, broadcasting from station S. A. P. S. They were advertising the new marriage bureau established by Ruby Bush and Marie Dahudy to accommodate the students of the high school. They also broadcasted the following daily news hour:

Christopher Balaskovits is supervising the building of the new stadium at Muskegon Heights, Michigan.

Ralph Shupp has just been crowned John Boles, the second, although his shyness of women still persists.

Florence Gaskill has just written a new popular song for Mary Harvath in her latest role in which she plays opposite Al Jolson.

Marion Heimler has just developed a new way to make Fords go sixty miles ahead, instead of thirty ahead and thirty up and down.

The Muskegon Heights High School football team has won the state championship this year. The public is inclined to think that a large part of their success is due to their efficient coach, Stanley Birlson, who is assisted by Herbert Pedler.

After this station had signed off, I sat looking out of the window. Across the street I saw a large billboard which told that Ringling Brothers were about to arrive in town. The billboard featured the world's smallest, never get-fat woman, Arlene Veltman. She was wearing a costume designed by the Grecian designers, Mary Pavlin and Edna Porter.

In front of the sign board, the Salvation Army was holding a meeting and I recognized Albe and Katherine Bont who were singing a song while Alida Dykhuis played the organ.

Although it was 11:30, the expectant crowd was still waiting in the streets, and I bought a Fruitport Gazette to help pass the time. On the front page were pictures of Jewell Meier and Gladys Omness, missionaries who had just returned from China. There was also a summary of a speech which had been given by President of the W. C. T. U., Mrs. Shafer, to the prospective bootleggers of the Heights.

I noticed that the joint publishers were Grant McLain and Raymond Slorf. A whole page was given to poetry which had been written by the poet laureate of the United States, Margaret Moore.

On the sport page was a snapshot of the famous doubles, Bernice Kufta and Bertha Lewis. An article beneath the picture told that it was impossible to determine which one was the more like Helen Wills.

I had hardly finished reading my paper when someone touched me on the shoulder and asked if I had finished reading my paper and would loan it to a poor man. Looking up, I saw Elmer Kuck, who although he did not look prosperous, has made his millions in the junk business.

The "Spirit of 1955" had not yet arrived, so I considered walking about the town to see if I might run across any other friends. As I emerged from the drug store, I heard what seemed to be a series of yells, one closely followed by another. They came from a window directly over the drug store, and thinking someone might be in distress, I rushed up the nearest stairs. I did not stop until I reached a glass door which read "Vocal and Guitar Lessons Given Free of Charge. We Aim to Better the Community, Miss Sarah Olson and Miss Margaret Miley." This sounded interesting so I walked into the studio. It seemed that although the girls had a flourishing business, they still had time for scandal. They told me that Verna Sweet is taking in washings because her husband, Clarence Smalley, cannot make enough to support the family. It seems that Clarence had a Real Estate Office in Fruitport with Margie Hackson as his stenographer.

There were many stray cats and dogs. The institution is located somewhere near the Heights High School and at present is over-filled. Miss Abbott is working in cooperation with John Daniels, the city dog catcher.

The studio soon became so filled with customers that I felt I must leave. As I walked down the hall I met Ann Booth with what looked to be an armful of tools. She told me that they were dentist's instruments which she was taking to be sterilized. She said she was working for John Austin, who specialized in a new kind of unbreakable false teeth, and mentioned that she and John were still single.

It was now late in the afternoon, and many of the people had tired of waiting for the "Spirit of 1955", and were returning to their homes.

Someone handed me an advertisement. This is what I read: "Formal Opening of the New J. C. Penney Store in Nunica, First Chain Store with Woman Manager." The officers of the Company were listed as follows: Manager, Frances Cooper; Assistant Manager, Blanche Pike; Interior Decorator, Ormal Hobby; and Head Clerk, Genevieve Norton.

An extra has just come out and buying one, I saw on the headlines just what I had feared. The "Spirit of 1955" was not coming. The chief pilot, William Antisdale, had eloped with Veronica Perreault, and had used the aeroplane as the speediest means for elopement.

VALEDICTORY

Near the close of each school calendar year this occasion is dedicated to the members of the senior class that they may leave behind a few words of appreciation and self-expression to all those who have striven for us and with us these four years.

During the past few years speakers, on this occasion, have delivered inspiring messages of individualism, knowing that many of our graduating class are about to attempt life without further educational preparation and knowing that many others who are present will put forth their efforts to reach the top of the high school or college ladder. As speakers particularly like to discuss the individual case, it is somewhat difficult to find the practical application of these ideas. We have thus far been on the receiving end of all that which education has to offer, and now we face the necessity of putting into practice what we have mastered.

"What are we doing about it? What are we going to do about it?" In the analogy I say that life is committed unto the hands of our people. What are we doing about it? What are we going to do about it?

Now to get the meaning of life down to bare facts we find that it is existence, or the period between birth and death. The most simple definition of living is the mode of life. We can not understand these things unless we see that the really big thing of life is spiritual and not material. Seeking of good customs and the good done once for all is of lasting necessity. The regular vice does not make a great master of those who go through life without knowing that a regular vice is a means to a great end. A life is a whole, and when a man is without the slightest love or respect for the things that he is doing, he is a man who is a burden to society.

The choice of a life work should be determined only after a long and careful study in the elimination of the unsuitable and the adoption of those things that seem to coincide with the instinctive tendencies. My observation has led me to see that for the at least the most important things to consider in selecting a career are first, my innermost or thought-world; the educational factor; of the work itself; the work-conditions; the character of the work; the bearing of a satisfactory and happiness to those dependent on me. I must necessarily have a very good reason for the work is made people who do the mental tasks. We are all happy and even in occupations that have nothing of the so-called work in them. But the all important thing is that we find the task which we are best fitted to do, and then we can find the most genuine satisfaction.

Remember that one's mind doesn't have to be in a rut just because his feet are following a furrow. Too many people, after leaving school, are satisfied to let their minds become stagnant. With our modern methods of education even the humblest can enjoy the advantages of a greater mental development through night schools, correspondence courses, extension courses, cultural clubs, and our public libraries. People who get the most out of life and contribute the most to progress of mankind are the people who continue to grow mentally year after year instead of being satisfied with their present attainments. The most genuine and lasting satisfaction comes from living on a high plane — intellectually, morally, and spiritually. Good living will always be loved by those who are capable of appreciating the finest things.

Let us in these parting moments do the fitting thing by paying tribute to this institution which has instilled in us the desire for higher and nobler ideals. For those who have guided us and touched our lives daily in the classrooms may we say, that our appreciation isn't so much in the value of what they have taught us as it is in the love that they have inspired and in the memories of the valuable things of life that they have kept alive.

OUR HEIGHTS HIGH

Tune: Stein Song

Sing a song for dear Heights High;
Sing till the rafters ring!
Stand — and let your voice reach the sky,
Let every loyal Heights man sing.
(Then) Sing to all the happy hours,
Sing to the careless days,
Sing a song for our Heights High School,
The courage of our hearts always.
To our school, our Heights High,
To our friends we wish barrels of happiness;
To gay times, precious times,
That forever are moving and calling us!
Memories, very dear,
Of the teachers who helped us the goal to win,
To great joy, to success,
To the one school that we love the best!
Oh, sing a song for dear Heights High,
Sing till the rafters ring!
Stand — and let your voice reach the sky,
Let every Loyal Heights man sing!
(Then) sing to all the happy hours,
Sing to the careless days,
Sing a song for our Heights High School,
The courage of our hearts always. — Veronica Perreault

Class Will

We, the class of 1930, being of sound mind, whether we do look like it or not, do hereby give, bequeath, will, or what have you, to the school and all of its attachments the following, to have and to hold until such time that we may find some other use for them.

ARTICLE I

Just as a matter of form we wish to leave our fellow classmates the honor of attending this wonderful building after we have taken our very sad departure.

To the faculty, we leave the memory of our extraordinary knowledge that they may not get discouraged in teaching future senior classes.

ARTICLE II

Section 1. To the Juniors, we leave our title of dignified seniors that they may never forget the responsible position they will be holding.

Section 2. To the Sophomores, we leave all of our used gum supply, the main storehouse being under the desks in Room 1. This is given only under the condition that you do not chew less than five wads at one time.

Section 3. To the Freshmen, we do leave all of our troubles, love notes, test papers, pencile stubs, erasers, etc., to give you a good start on your road to being dignified seniors. Also to the freshmen we leave all the privileges of picking up paper in the halls, and any other nice clean work that anyone may find for them to do.

ARTICLE III

Section 1. To the school we leave an unforgettable memory of the noisiest, peppiest, and most remarkable senior class ever put out by any high school.

Section 2. To the school board, we leave, for letting us dance on the sacred gym floor during the last year of our high school career, our best wishes and a free permit to all future dances.

ARTICLE IV

To our understanding faculty for their untiring efforts, we wish to leave the following:

Section 1. To Mr. Booker, a more dignified senior class for the next year.

Section 2. To Mr. Bolt, we leave a vitaphone talking picture of his one minute to eight speech, that he may sit in his office and yet warn students of tardy slips.

Section 3. To Coach Johnson, a new hat to wear to next year's football games.

Section 4. To Mr. Peterman, a hook to hang his line on.

Section 5. To Miss Kinniard, we leave a photo of Babe, Bertha and Julia, that she may never forget the giggling trio in her Civics class.

Section 6. To Miss Masters, a small stick to help keep order in her classes.

Section 7. To Mr. Koehn, a flat tire, in case he has to walk home some night.

- Section 8. To Mr. Rudd, a bottle of hair restorer.
 Section 9. To Miss Billings, the good looking boy-friend that she has been looking for.
 Section 10. To Miss Hosking, the mystery of her unusual boys'
 Section 11. To Miss Gill, a broom with which to sweep out the stragglers from the office.
 Section 12. To Miss Golden, a box of fish food, not for students, but to feed her alligator.

ARTICLE V

As an added proof of the generosity of these very remarkable seniors, they, as individuals, desire to leave to their inferiors the following:

- Dottie Abbott, her shortness to Vernon Harwood; may he profit
 Hanson, his ability to cave in flivvers to anyone who appreciates this kind of sport.
 Bill Antisdale, his position as school taxi driver to any luckless enough to be appointed to this honorable position.
 John Addicott, his crutches to some dumb junior, foolish enough to try breaking his neck.
 RoseLenore Atkins, Harvey Martin to any one who can get him.
 John Austin, his perfect profile to Harvey Meisch.
 Christopher Balaskovitz, his specs to some near sighted freshman.
 Janice Beckwith, her debating ability to Stan Kufita.
 Helen Bilka, her tap shoes and peg leg to Winifred Haney
 Stanley Birlson, his book entitled, "How to be a Successful Screen Lover in 10 days", to Steve Skodack.
 Allie Bont, her modesty to Vic Pyle.
 Katherine Bont, her henna hair dye to Ethel Verick.
 Annabelle Booth, her greecian profile to Leigh Prettyman.
 Art Brainard, his goose step to John Savage.
 Ed. Brothers, his secret of keeping one girl to Ellis, Outwin.
 Helga Bruffadt, her slinness to Richard Israel.
 Ruby Bush, her long flowing tresses to Eyon Cummings.
 Anna Buskarits, her stately carriage to some freshman that feels a need for it.
 Robert Campbell, his Scotch ways to Ellen Begley.
 Frances Chase, her shyness to Emil Mezynski.
 James Cobb, a can of black paint to Leigh Prettyman to put a few more stripes on his sweater.
 Tyrus Cobb, his manly chest to Howard Grant.
 Frances Cooper, her best report card to Guinevere Cole.
 Laura Cruse, her Cooking Outline to Zelda Esh that she may have her outline in on time for once.
 Julia Cunningham, a ball and chain that she held Ed. with to Jennie Winnick in case she has difficulty in landing Gorman Hobbs.
 Marie Dahudy, her original outfit that she wore on senior election day to Miss Bahr.
 Wilda Dake, one of her pet airdale dogs to Harry Land.
 John Daniels, his chem. lab. book to Kenneth Smith.

Bernice Derda, her grim determination to get "A's" to Verna Reed.

Aleida Dykhuis, the remains of her permanent to Audrey Ingells.

Florence Gaskill, her affectionate ways to Mr. Rakestraw.

John Gebao, his first lesson on "How to Blow a Sax in five minutes", to Thaddens Barr.

Dolores Gerber, her giggles to Robert Henderson.

Bernice Green, her sweet voice to Bob Austin.

Evelyn Green, her ability to balance herself on high spike heels to Margaret Wagner.

Marjory Hackson, her graceful dancing steps to Leonard Boles.

Mary Harvath, her good looks to any one lucky enough to get them.

Marion Hemler, his quiet disposition to Joe Cavanaugh.

Irving Hirsch, his little brown jug to Dick Mauch.

Ormal Hobby, her gifted ability to bluff in any class to Harvey Morden.

Carol Horne, his manly form to Ed. Smith.

Claire Humphreys, his deadly stare to anyone with a guilty conscience.

George Hurtubise, his reputation as a woman hater to Eugene Pethke.

Augusta Hutson, twenty pounds of her weight to Olga Smuk.

James Jackson, his golf suit to Mr. Bolt.

John Koslosky, his small feet to Emil Mezynski.

Elmer Kuck, his truck to anyone who can make use of it.

Bernice Kufita, her tennis championship to Beatrice Shupp.

Bertha Lewis, her ability to chatter with Mr. Peterman to anyone with a line long enough to ever hope to compete with either of them.

Ralph Lillie, his exacting qualities to Glen Wood.

Bruce Lintner, his place as joke editor of the Katzenjammer page to anyone crazy enough to accept it.

Blanche Little, her soulful southern eyes to Margaret Beluzar, to use only in case of emergency.

LeRoy McDonald, his luck at being the only boy in a room full of girls to anyone worthy of it.

Grant McLain, his unused gum supply to Helen Halter.

Marion McQuade, her slowness and height to her little sister to take in daily doses.

Jewell Meier, her argumentative speeches to some worthy junior, to use only at test time.

Margaret Miley, her quiet ways to Elwin Colburn.

Margaret Moore, her position as printers' devil to some ambitious fresbie.

Genevieve Norton, gives back to Gwendolyn Sutherland, all of the typing paper she borrowed in the last two years.

Sarah Olson, her sassy disposition along with her trusty boxing gloves to Ruth Chapin.

Arnold Omness, his position as valedictorian of pests to some flag pole sitter in South America.

Gladys Omness, her favorite barrette to Rosetta Gedman, to aid in keeping her hair back.

Ed. Pascoe, his ability to shoot long baskets (some of which accidentally go in) to Clarence Turner.

Mary Paylin, her treasured bottle of peroxide to Marian Carpenter.

Herbert Pedler, his flaming heart to Hazel Sikkenga.

Veronica Perreault, her harmonious voice to Maxine Barber.

Blanche Pike, her smartness to some of our dumb juniors.

Edna Porter, her shorthand notebook to Louise Nemhuus.

Frederick Reinecke, his latest jazz songs to Bernadine Johnson.

Geraldine Ritz, her job of typing for the teachers to Ruby Bray.

Donna Rice, her long blond curls to Eunice Warneke.

Mrs. M. Shaffer, domestic tranquility to anyone hopeless enough to marry.

Mary Shunta, her little sister to Paul Lesperance.

Ralph Shupp, a new razor blade to John Regecz.

Raymond Slorf, his secret of getting through school to his sister.

Clarence Smalley, his reserved qualities to Gerald Clute.

Lucille Sternberg, her lovable ways and dependability to anyone smart enough to uphold both.

Martha Svetlick, her poetic talent to Travis Anderson.

Verna Sweet, her position as May Queen to any person sweet and charming enough to hope to compete with her.

Arlene Veltman, her pull with Miss Winshop to Gwendolyn Belv.

Jack Whitford, a book on "How to be teacher's pet in 10 volumes" to John Dalson.

ARTICLE VI

Last, but not least we wish to will the following:

Section 1. To Mr. McIntire, a new stick to replace the one which he wore out at last year's football games.

Section 2. To Miss Sprague and Miss Kinnard, a few new packs of tardy slips to give to students who do not know where they are supposed to be at 2:30.

Section 3. To next year's senior girls, the class basket ball championship.

Section 4. To the boys' sports, bigger and better players to run up bigger and better scores.

Section 5. To the Rooster Club, we leave consent to give hooster assemblies next year.

Section 6. To the Hi Y, we leave a trusty paddle to use only during initiation.

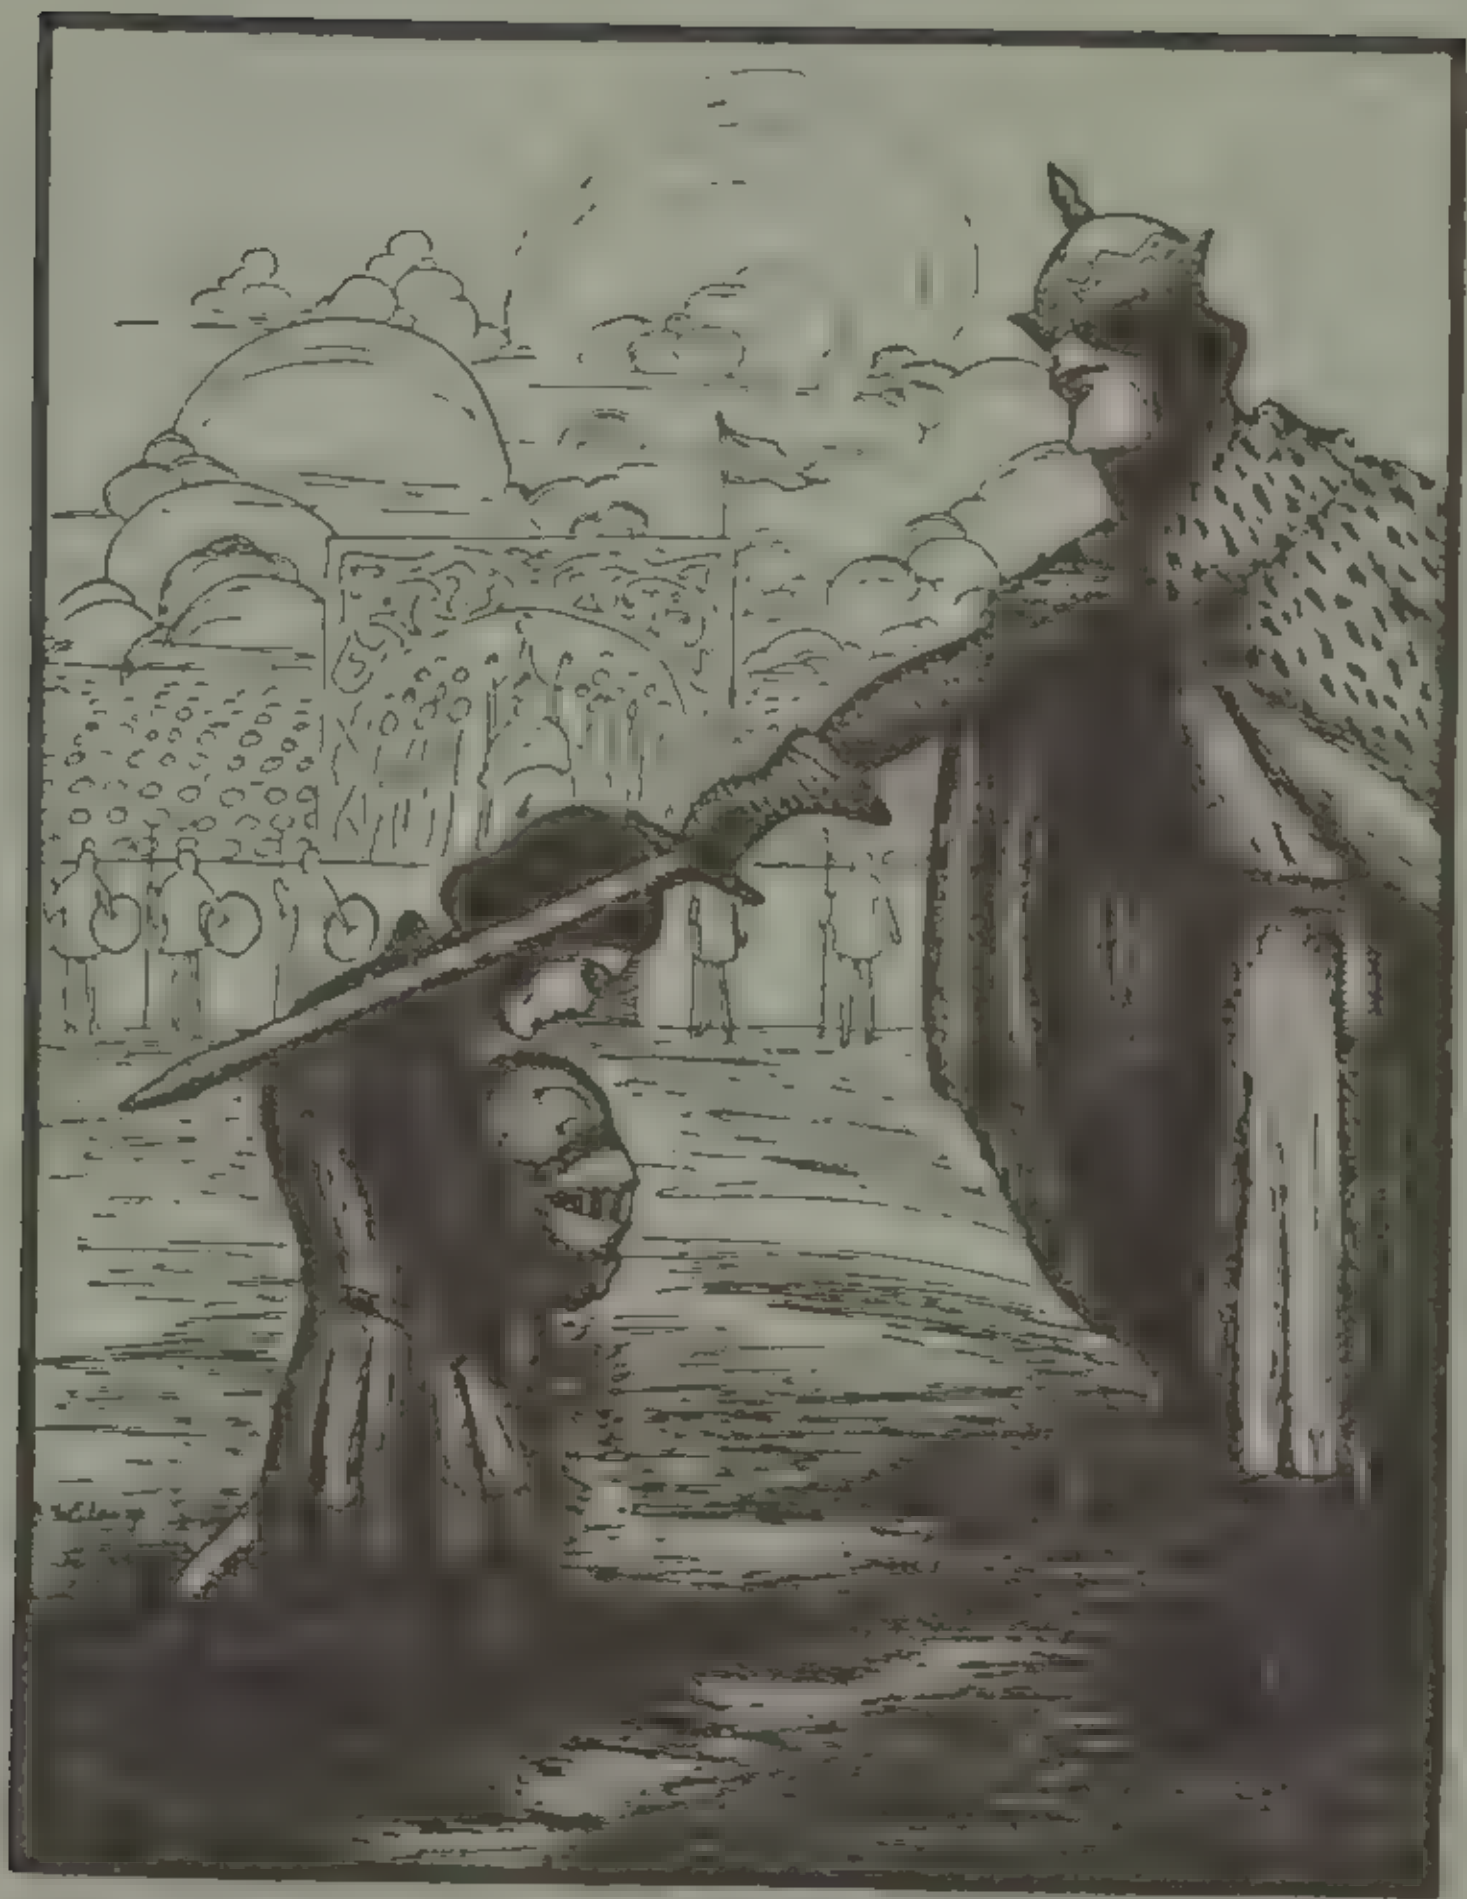

We, the undersigned, leave the above in the year one thousand, nine hundred and thirty, and set our black foot as a legal seal, upon this once white paper, in witness thereof of the following:

Herbert Pedler

Mary Shunta

Edward Brothers

Bertha Lewis

JUNIOR CLASS

The Junior class of this year has been very active. Besides being represented on the Honor Roll and Honorable Mention we have been well represented in football by John Regeezi, Arthur Severy, Fred Cruikshank, Ed Smith, Clarence Fairfield, and Charles Swanson; in all by John Regeezi, Ellsworth Outwin, Fred Cruikshank, s, and Ed Smith. In debating we have been represented by Ruth Chapin and Bernadine Johnson.

On April 24 the Juniors presented "The Meanest Man in the World". The play was under the direction of Miss Royse and it proved to be very successful. The dances put on by the Juniors were also enjoyed.

Mr. Johnson and Mr. Hubbard were the advisors of the class this year.

HIGH SCHOOL SONG

Let's give a rah for Muskegon Heights,
And let our pledge to her not lack,
Others may like white and crimson,
But for us it's orange and black.
Let all our troubles be forgotten,
Let high-school spirit rule,
We'll join and give our loyal efforts
For the good of our old school.        -

It's our Heights High School,
It's our Heights High School,
The pride of every Heights High here.
Come on, you old grads, join with us young lads,
It's our Heights High School now we cheer! Rah! Rah!
Now is the time, boys, to make a big noise,
No matter what the people say,
For there is naught to fear, the gang's all here,
So hail, Muskegon Heights High, hail!

THE PEPPY BOOSTER CLUB

The Peppy Booster Club has done a great deal toward supporting all the athletic functions this year, and the members have had lots of fun in taking part in all the activities.

One of the biggest events given by the members was the Snowball Dance which was held in February. The gym was elaborately decorated and music was furnished by Jim Kolkowski's orchestra. It was a great success due to the cooperation and good spirit of the girls.

The members of the Booster Club are: Dottie Abbott, Janice Beckwith, Ellen Begley, Helen Bilka, Anna Belle Booth, Ruth Chapin, Virginia Chubb, Julia Cunningham, Wilda Dake, Ormal Hobby, Bernadine Johnson, Bertha Lewis, Jewel Meier, Sarah Olson, Mary Pavlin, Veronica Perreault, Helen Schiafer, Mary Shunta, Sikkenga, Verna Sweet and Jennie Winnick.

FRENCH CLUB

The operations of the French Club have been supported by its members unusually well this year. It was decided that the aim for the club would be the raising of a sum of money sufficient to purchase a picture for the school, relative to France or of a French artist. Meetings have been held every three weeks, with a lively program presented each time.

The officers of the club for this year are as follows: President, Wilda Duke; vice-president, Elmer Kuck; secretary, Augusta Hutton; treasurer, Roselenore Atkins. Committees for the year and their chairmen are: program, Janice Beckwith; social, Winifred Pedler; finance, Jack Whitford; discussion, Dorothea Aue; literature, Bernadine Johnson.

An interesting feature of the club's order of business is the roll call, in which the members are designated by French names as far as possible.

The club has been ably guided by the French instructor, Miss Fillingham, to whom it owes a great deal for its successful year.

BEAUX ARTS CLUB

The Beaux Arts Club finished a well filled and well planned year after having enjoyed several parties and a marionette show. The name of the presentation was "Treasure Island", and was given on March 20, 1930, in the high school auditorium. The latter part of the year was spent working on the annual publication of the Senior Class, the Oaks.

The club officers are

GIRLS' GLEE CLUB

The Girls' Glee Club have had a remarkable year under the direction of Mr. McIntyre.

The two Glee Clubs presented an operetta, "Once in a Blue Moon", and a vocal concert. The girls' contributions to the program were, "The Call", "The Hindu Song", and a one act play, "Lady Frances". Those taking part in the play were: Viona Thunfors, Veronica Perreault, Victoria Kolonic, Lucy Lynn, Frieda Wiener, Virginia Chubb, Eloise Eckerman, Sally Olson, Pauline DeMann, Hazel Sikkenga, Ellen Begley, and Marion Bramard. The two Glee Clubs sang at the Board of Trade and Parent-Teachers' Club.

There has been organized a mixed chorus with the following personnel: Veronica Perreault, Sally Olson, Hazel Sikkenga, Pauline DeMann, Viona Thunfors, Lucy Lynn, Victoria Kolonic, Ellen Begley, Frieda Wiener, Jewell Meier, Robert Henderson, Joe and Harold Cavanaugh, Jock Hodson, Forest Beckwith, Robert and John Austin, Ralph Lallie, Harry Lund, and John Gebao.

BOYS' GLEE CLUB

The Boys' Glee Club is a Live organization. If you don't believe this statement, walk through the cafeteria or past the stage door at about one o'clock any day. The sounds issuing forth reveal the fact. It is able to make itself heard above all other noise.

This last year has been very successful. Our Glee Clubs presented the operetta, "Once in a Blue Moon", which was one of the numbers on the Lyceum Course, and also gave a vocal concert and minstrel show. The club has appeared before various clubs in town and was well received. There are about twenty-five members in it

BAND

The band has had a very good season. It has caused "pep" for school projects and it played at all the football games, both in the city and out. It also played at the County Fair in the Armistice Day Parade, for the State Parent-Teachers' Convention, and for the Boy Scout Rally.

The Annual Concert was given on May 27. "Poet and Peasant Overture", "Victor Herbert's Favorite", and two snappy marches, "Lights Out" and the "Washington Post March" were on the program.

The organization was presented with an American flag for participating in the Armistice Day Parade. It also has acquired two fine sousaphones.

Since the band will lose only four members through graduation everybody can look forward to a bigger and finer band this fall.

ORCHESTRA

The orchestra has been working in two divisions, one consisting of a foundation of strings without piano as in the classic symphony orchestra, the other similar to the ordinary theater orchestra in which the piano supplies the harmonic basis. A lack of violins in the high school necessitated bringing some players from Central to fill out the string division of the former.

The string orchestra, consisting of first and second violins, viola, cello and bass, first played in public for the puppet show. Following this they made an appearance before the Heights Woman's Club. They have also supplemented the advanced orchestra in playing for the Junior and Senior plays and other functions of that nature.

The advanced orchestra has not been limited in the selections it can play as has the string orchestra, since the harmony is complete with only violin and piano. The function of this organization has been to play for school plays, banquets, and similar affairs. The membership is as follows:

1st violins	Harold Cavanaugh Stephen Zavodny
2nd violins	George Carlson
Viola	Murel Brown and Creswell Mellow
Cello	Fred Reinecke
Double bass	Joe Cavanaugh and John Austin
Piano	John Gebow
	Gertrude Anderson

GIRL RESERVES

"To find and give the best". What could be a better slogan for the Girl Reserve Club? As a girls' club it is one of the most active organizations in the school. There has been much work accomplished during this year. The girls helped to contribute to the club by buying Christmas presents for the Indian children, making scrap books for sick ones, and visiting their grandmothers at the Old Peoples' Home.

The meetings have been very interesting because the club has had the opportunity of hearing several good speakers.

The club was well represented this year at the Girl Reserves Conference which took place at Detroit. Our candidates were Jewell Meier and Victoria Kolenic.

Vice President . . .	Dottie Abbott
Secretary . . .	Veronica Perreault

Girl Reserves have been fortunate in having two fine advisors, Miss Cummings and Miss Masters.

HI-Y

The purpose of the Hi-Y is to set a high standard of Christian character. The boys have attempted to be examples for other students in the school and for boys outside the school.

The club has been very active throughout the school year. They have had several parties, put on assemblies, and have taken part in banquets. Ed. Smith and Herb. Pedler were the Hi-Y representatives who attended the Older Boy's Conference at Grand Rapids and they brought back many helpful ideas for the club. The same two boys attended Camp Hayo-Went-Ha, the Y camp, last summer.

During the year we have had many interesting speakers at our weekly meetings. An interesting discussion was held almost every week, in which every fellow took part. Many new members have been taken in, who tend to make the club bigger and better.

Mr. Koehn was advisor of the club and proved himself to be a capable leader and a worthy friend to every boy.

FORENSIC CLUB

The Forensic Club has completed its third year under the supervision of Miss Royse. The motto of the club is "Better Debaters Our School and Better School Support for Our Debaters". During the year the club had a series of inter-class debates, the sophomore class won winning the finals. This year the club met on Monday and Wednesday afternoons during the first semester, and had no regular meetings the second semester. The credit earned by members of the club is the same as Public Speaking credit, two points a year. A new stimulus for superior work has been provided by the club's joining the National Forensic League. Seven members of the local club have already earned enough honor points to entitle them to individual membership in this national organization, and a number of others no doubt will qualify next year.

LIBRARY CLUB

The Library Club has passed its fourth successful year. It was organized in 1927 under the supervision of Mrs. Parker.

In the fall of the year the club sponsored a Book author Contest. Mrs. Shact won the upper class prize and Rosetta Ramsay, the 8th and 9th grade prize. The club also gave an assembly, which was repeated at the Muskegon Woman's Club. In the spring the club gave their annual tea for the faculty and mothers of the girls.

FLYING CADETS

The Muskegon Heights High School Flying Cadets, being the newest club in school, have caused quite a sensation.

It was organized February 26, 1930, and now has about fifteen members. The Flying Cadets have established some new records with miniature planes. They staged a contest with Central Aviation Club in which the high school won.

Seven models were displayed at the Parent Teachers Association at the Convention which was held in Muskegon.

STUDENT SERVICE CLUB

The Student Service Club is a new organization founded this year with Mr. Rudd as advisor. Its purpose is to better the school and promote more school spirit. New hall rules were formed under the guidance of the club. Two all school matinee dances were put across successfully. Now the club is collecting material to form a handbook for the school. This handbook will be published some time in the summer.

ATHLETICS

ATHLETIC BOARD OF CONTROL

An organization which has become of greatest importance to the high school is the Athletic Board of Control. The Board is composed of nine members, namely: W. R. Booker, superintendent of schools; C. F. Bolt, principal of the high school; Florence Billings and Os Johnson, coaches; and Mr. J. W. Brooks, a representative of the Board of Education. Four students elected by the student body are members of the Board. They are: Sarah Olson, Mary Shunta, Edward Brothers, and John Regeczi.

The Board takes care of all matters pertaining to athletics, some of which are problems of finance, the purchasing of apparatus, and the making of schedules.

REVIEW OF THE FOOTBALL SEASON

The Muskegon Heights High School football team of '29 enjoyed a very successful season. The hardest schedule yet attempted by Muskegon Heights High School was accomplished in superb fashion. The season started with the Muskegon game, which everyone anticipated with much interest. This exciting game ended with a score of 7 to 0 in favor of the Big Reds. Muskegon had to fight for every inch of ground it gained and the last three quarters were defensive ones for Muskegon. A hard game with Creston, our old rival, ended 0 to 0. Kalamazoo was the next clash, which ended badly for the Heights by 13-6 after the Tigers outplayed their opponents and land on its sand pile, the score after a hot game was 7 to 0 in favor of the Hingamen. The Fremont game on the next week-end was a track meet for the Black and Orange warriors, ending with a count of 52 to 0. The next week our team traveled to Ionia and gave them a terrible beating. The score was 39 to 0. The biggest triumph of the season was an interesting walk-away game with Grand Haven, who have beaten the Heights since our high school was first established. The Tigers upset the jinx by beating the strong Cohrsmen to the tune of 20 to 6, much to the satisfaction of everyone.

BASKETBALL

At the beginning of the 1929-30 season, the basketball team showed signs of becoming a winning team.

The Tigers met and defeated in their first five games, Newaygo, Benton Harbor, a strong Alumni team, Battle Creek, and Ludington. Benton Harbor was again met and defeated, this time on our home floor for our sixth victory. Fremont was defeated for our seventh straight victory.

We then met our first defeat at the hands of Lansing Eastern, finalists in the state tournament last year. The fighting Tigers followed with a wonderful comeback in a decisive victory over Muskegon. This was the first time a boys' first team was able to accomplish this feat. The following week our old jinx, Grand Haven, defeated us on our home floor.

The Muskegon Big Reds were entertained on our home floor and were beaten for the second time in the season. Grand Rapids Creston was defeated the following week. Then the same old story again, beaten by Grand Haven. The Tigers then put on their finishing touch by dribbling Ionia.

The Tigers were defeated by Kalamazoo Central, winners of the Regional tournament, in the first game. Coach Johnson must be complimented on the fine team he turned out. Herbert Pedler number of meets won, a nine year old jinx, held by Grand Haven in all boys' athletics, was broken. The season was considered very successful since we defeated our ancient rivals.

TRACK

Track is about the only sport that develops individual stars. Our team was well supplied with stars that held their own with the best in the state. John Regeezi ran the 100 and 220 and won most of his races. John also threw the javelin and broad jumped. He broke the state javelin record. In the 440 Ed. Brothers was a hard man to beat. In the mile run Herb Pedler was not defeated until the state meet. The half mile relay team, made up of Cobb, Meisch, Brothers, and Regeezi, set the regional meet record at Kalamazoo.

RESERVE FOOTBALL

The reserve team, although not especially successful in the number of games won, has developed many players who will in future years make up the first team. The second team's most notable games were the defeat of the Montague first team and the Grand Haven reserves. Coach Mackenzie and the reserve team deserve much credit for their work.

GIRLS' CHAMPIONSHIP TEAM

The inter-class basketball tournament was held in January. The freshmen were the first to be eliminated, since the juniors and sophomores tied in the game which they played. The juniors and sophomores have an excellent team, and with the strength nearly equal on both teams one can readily see that the tournament was a success. The seniors, with the strongest team in the school, triumphed over the lower classes. This is the second year in succession that the same group of girls won the honor of belonging to the winning team. The following girls were members of the senior class team: Captain — Mary Shunta, Janice Beckwith, Helen Bilka, Annabelle Booth, Julia Cunningham, Ormal Hobby, Bertha Lewis, Sarah Olson, Mary Harvath and Veronica Perreault.

That first bashful invitation to "c'mon over!"

WILL IT BRING EMBARRASSMENT OR PRIDE TO YOUR YOUNGSTER?

YOUNG folks are so keenly sensitive—so easily hurt by the disapproval of their companions. And a home in which the furnishings are worn-out or out-of-date rarely fails to cause adverse comment, when school chums accept invitations to "C'mon over!" Encourage your youngsters to entertain their friends at home by putting your home furnishings beyond reproach. Let us help you make the necessary changes and additions now. Our businesslike plan of buying lets you have the things you need, without waiting.

is the only newspaper in the city and has been a constant booster for this city of homes, ever since the paper was established by the present owner nine years ago.

It has on its list of employes five graduates of the Heights schools; Edward Moore as assistant manager, Marvin Kriesel, William Schooley, and John Workman, each and every one a credit to the schools and their teachers.

In favor of every move in the schools to make the system one that will retain the splendid reputation it has for turning out real young men and young women.

A DEVELOPMENT OF CREATIVE ENGINEERING :- Continental Motors is logically a development of creative engineering. Its designs are founded on the rock of experience. Its products are built to keep pace with ever-expanding needs of the automotive world. Through unequalled, specialized experience, its engineers sense the needs of the industry. Through these facilities which mark Continental as a leader, far reaching improvements are carried out successfully, vast production programs are completed without a skip or a falter. These are factors which are largely responsible for Continental's standing in the automotive world today.
